Making New Maps

Our programme offers an exciting mix of plenary sessions and workshops, with plenty of opportunities for participation, reflection and making new connections.

Mon 7 October Programme

Optional early arrival from 3.00pm on Monday for residential guests. Take time to land at Coed Hills, relax and unwind. Nothing to do for arrival day, but relax and eat supper together at 7.00pm. Option of a pre supper sauna, or simply read, relax, enjoy the surroundings.

Bring your warm clothes and boots, as there are lots of paths you can explore the 180 acres of woods and natural meadow land, and if the forecast says rain, make sure you're prepared for that too.

Bring your swimming costumes and a towel if you want to enjoy Coed's wood-fired sauna, wild swimming pool, or the nearby beaches... Or sit around the fire and make new friends.

If you are non-residential and would like to join us for arrival day, a quiet afternoon at Coed and supper, contact: ask@compassionatementalhealth.co.uk

All of the programme is optional, so please please put your own wellbeing first - you are welcome to take time out if you need it, and we also have a wellbeing team on hand should you need some support. Please make sure you have let us know about any dietary or access requirements.

10.45 - 12.15 Stepping into the Field of the Future - Co-Preseencing

This final session will bring us together as a group to sense some of the questions that have emerged from our time together. We will have a combination of dialogue and journaling to connect our self reflection and knowledge to create concrete actions around the best possible future we want to create. How can we meet complex challenges and let go of patterns and habits that are no longer valuable. How can we collectively imagine a future fit for mental health service? What are the ingredients of compassionate, relational mental health care and what is our part in helping initiate that future?

This workshop will include some time outside, weather depending, so bring your boots!

If you don't want to participate, you can take time for yourself to sit and read, or sign up for alternative activities - look for sign up sheets in the circular barn. Or take time for yourself to sit and read, or enjoy the beautiful surroundings at Coed Hills

Workshops

Telling our Stories

Malcolm Stern - Tues 11.30 & Tues Weds 11.30

Malcolm holds a safe, non-judgemental space where individuals can speak their own truths aloud. The power of giving voice and being witness to situations we've survived touches a place of profound and shared authenticity for the whole group.

"I don't really understand what went on in that room - in which most of us had not met before, and from which we emerged with a sense of camaraderie, and having communed on a deeper level - but I knew that we had touched upon some archetypal experiences that resonated with all of us and graced us with a sense of intimately shared humanity."

- past participant in "Telling our Stories"

The four worlds map and the compass of emotions

Emmy van Deurzen - Tues 2.30 / Weds 11.30

Our feelings are fundamental to the way in which we connect to the world at all levels. They are how we make sense of our life and find our direction. If you suppress your emotions, you may become detached and disengaged from the values and aspirations that make life worthwhile. If you get overwhelmed by emotions you may end up confused and life may seem chaotic to you. In this workshop Emmy will present her compass of emotions and map of the four worlds to help you find your way with greater clarity and understanding. There will be plenty of opportunities for participants to work on their own experience and to learn to make connections between their sensations, feelings, thoughts, intuitions and most deeply held values. The objective is to help you to become more aware of the meaning of your feelings and of the values that guide your life.

Transforming Relationships with Open Dialogue

Charmaine Harris - Tues 11.30 / Weds 11.30

Open Dialogue is a compassionate approach that involves working with families and social networks, rather than just the individual. It equips staff of all disciplines with the tools to effect change at deeper levels, and discover how we can reshape a social response to psychosis and emotional crisis.

Open Dialogue was developed in Western Lapland in Finland over the last 30 years. It has attracted widespread international attention. Results consistently show that it reduces hospitalisation, the use of medication, and results in less crisis recurrence compared with other approaches. Charmaine Harris is a peer support specialist working in the NHS in London, and is also on the core training team of the Peer Supported Open Dialogue (POD) Training.

Cut Outs

Arnaud Vallet - Tues 11.30 / Weds 2.30

Inspired by Tristan Tzara and the Dada art movement, and further developed by William Burroughs and Bryon Gysin in the 50's and 60's, cut-outs are a way of freeing language and our inner critic. A lot of artists took hold of this idea, from the Beatles to the Clash, from Zappa to Genesis P-Orridge, from Ian Curtis to Patti Smith and David Bowie. "On the Adamant, we are not into art, we are not into therapy, we just create the situations, this kind of collective or singular workshops, to help everyone to unfold his psyche, to map his internal world, to explore and reappropriate his carta incognita."

2024 marks the centenary of Surrealism - a full 100 years since the poet and critic André Breton debuted the Surrealist Manifesto. Arnaud will introduce some of the ideas from the Manifesto and how it has influenced his work on board L'Adamant.

Bushcraft & Archery

Barry Rowles - Tues 11.30 / 2.30

Join former paratrooper, Navy officer, foster carer and outdoor instructor Barry, for archery and bushcraft in the woods. Barry is a wise and valued member of the core community at Coed, and also facilitates forest school. Meet Barry outside the big barn to walk through the woods to his outdoor classroom.

Making New Maps

Keir and Hollie Berrigan - Weds 2.30

The journey between people asking for help and receiving what they need is rarely direct. Where services might see a direct route, people with lived experience and careers may find inaccurate directions, dead ends, motorways that turn to dirt tracks and paths riddled with potholes. In this session we attempt to build new maps, recognising the hazards that take people off course and highlighting what would need to be different for people to access help that meets their needs.

Drumming Sessions

Book a drumming session with Iolo Whelan in his Drum Studio - sign up sheets in reception - various times available throughout our time at Coed.

Massage with Mathu

Massage sessions with Mathu can be booked for an extra cost - sliding scale between £30-£50 per hour. If you are a bursary ticket holder and would like to book a session with Mathu, please talk with Brigid.

Wood Fired Sauna

Signup sheets to book the sauna will be available in the reception area. Please bring extra towel, bathing costume if you'd like to book in.

Please bring Slippers / Indoor shoes or thick socks for main barn space.
